

Notification of The Institute for the Promotion of Teaching Science and Technology
On Intention of Administration
“With Morality, Transparency and Good Governance”

The Institute for the Promotion of Teaching Science and Technology (IPST) hereby notifies its intention of administration with honesty, morality, and transparency in accordance with good governance principles to its executives and personnel with the following practices:

- Determine to perform duties and administration with honesty, transparency, impartiality, and verifiability: encourage stakeholders to participate in the administration and access accurate information
- Adhere to the rules and regulations and the anti-corruption policy: withstand bribery to prevent corruption and misconduct and refrain from conducting any malfeasance or policy corruption as well as gaining both direct and indirect personal advantages using position
- Create organizational culture and value of honesty against corruption in administration: participate in monitoring and prevention of corruption and inform IPST in cases of witnessing any individuals involved in any forms of corruption
- Convey policies, regulations, practices or measures for prevention and suppression of corruption through related channels to executives and personnel to adhere accordingly

Please be informed of this notification.

Notified on 16 November 2020

A handwritten signature in blue ink, which appears to read 'Sukit Limpijumnong'.

Professor Sukit Limpijumnong, Ph.D.
President

The Institute for the Promotion of Teaching Science and Technology

In regard to the intentions of Thailand's 20-Year National Strategy (2018 - 2037)

The National Anti-Corruption Strategy Phase 3 (2017 - 2021) regards the anti-corruption in the public sector as one of the important and urgent national policies